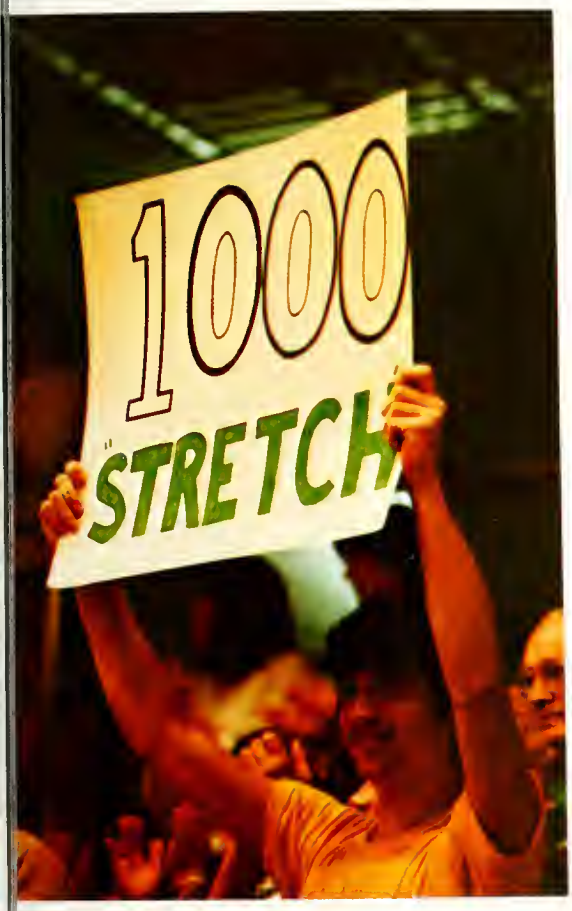
If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or lied about, don't deal in lies,
Or, being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise;

If you can dream – and not make dreams your master;
If you can think – and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with triumph and disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves to make a trap for fools,
Or watch the things you gave your life to be broken,
And stop and build 'em up with worn out tools;

If you can make one heap of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss,
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you
Except the Will which says to them: "Hold on";



If you can talk to crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings – nor lose your common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you;
If all men count with you, but none too much;
If you can fill the unforgiving minute
With sixty seconds' worth of distance run –
Yours is the Earth and everything that's in it,
And – which is more – you'll be a Man, my son!

Familiar Scenes . . .

The Alma Mater

All hail to thee, hail to thee, bright Alma Mater!
Our heart's true affection twines closely to thee;
How dear to our hearts are the scenes of old Bethany;
God speed Alma Mater and dear old Bethany;
God speed Alma Mater and old Bethany.

We'll honor and crown thee, O bright Alma Mater.
For thou art the regent of our destiny,
We bring thee the gems and the treasures of mem'ry.
God speed Alma Mater and dear old Bethany;
God speed Alma Mater and old Bethany.

Once upon a time on the edge of town in Cookie's Seafood Palace, there was a revival of the APAFAP Spirit of old. Our town council connection blew everybody's rap and Gary missed the driveway, paving the way for Graham National Park. The continuing saga of the spice crisis and the domination of the volleyball team were bright spots in a rather shattered year. But anything can be replaced with $172.11!

As you walk through the DeMayo Memorial Door, watch for police cars in the parking lot. They're good friends of Spud and our self-appointed foreign correspondent Mickey Mouse Breath. Moe's not a radio star, that's for sure. "Eddie, come!" you'll be late for Dubwot. Watch out for a late night herd of ponies, or risk being trampled, and remember: don't point the finger at us!

A brief description of Alpha Xi, brings a few thoughts to mind immediately.
At beer pong we do reign supreme, and our kitchen is usually less than clean.
Field hockey and lacrosse are our two main sports,
though we do have a basketball team, of sorts.
In the fall, we had a lasagna dinner,
and that left none of us any thinner.

Though motley is often our way to be,
we do dress up occasionally.
At the SAE house we can often be found,
'cuz there's not far to go when we're homeward bound!
Just a few more words to this shaky rhyme:
the Alpha Xi girls are one of a kind!

Our first semester was highlighted by another try for a Guinness world record. Volleyball was the game, and the Leukemia Society of America was the benefactor. Inspired by the life of brother Ray Nola, 12 men pulled together and made the event a huge success, raising over $3,000 for the society.

Intercollegiate athletics were very successful this year, and Betas played various key roles. Denny Williams led the conference in pass receptions for the 6-2 football team. Others included seniors Doug Owens and Lee Frankhouser, juniors Dave Collins, Mike Mari and Gary Frankhouser, and sophomore Bill Rainey. Senior varsity basketball captain Kendall Hayes finished his career with a flourish, scoring his 1,000th point for the Bison cagers, and juniors Greg Fenton and Pete Winovich also provided leadership for the team.

Traditional social events brightened many days and nights. The "Haunted House" was a very appropriate theme for the annual Fall Ball. Just ask Todd. The Christmas formal was memorable, and Canaan Valley was the sight for the spring weekend. Our thanks go to Greg Jordan for the fine job he's done.

Congratulations are in order for our seniors passing their comps. They will be a great loss, but to these men go our best wishes, and our hopes that they will find success in the future.

The past school year can be looked upon as a year of change for brothers of Delta Tau Delta. At the beginning of the year, two sophomores moved into the house as independents. Well, they pledged, and have since become the chapter's V.P. and Recording Secretary.

The fall term was one of community service, and a change in the physical appearance of the house. In September, when the Stottlemeyer house was gutted by flames, the Delts cleaned out their house and donated the money back to the Stottlemeyer family.

The improvement of the Delt house included a revamping of the downstairs recreation room. Indoor-outdoor carpeting was installed, brothers Pete Fraimen and Kevin Engemann built an eight-foot bar, and the Delts pitched in together and bought a full-length pool table.

Unpredictability marked second semester activities. Included were impromptu come-as-you-are parties and mid-winter beach parties. The Delts could also be seen jumping off their balcony – onto mattresses below, left over from their annual Heaven and Hell party.

Diversity has always been a Delt trademark, and this year was no exception. House athletes included swimming captain Eric Schult and Steve Burfield, lacrosse defensive terror Ira Goldberg, varsity hurdler Dave Blaner, baseball standout Terry Noble and dedicated cross country runner Steve Yereb. Scott Eisenlohr was named to the Society of Collegiate Journalists, and fellow senior Ned Ferris could be heard often on radio stations 14WK and 97FM in Wheeling.

Marlynn at the salad counter again?

Goodnight takes on new characteristics! We suffered our first defeat in intramural football since 1975. Finally the Anna Ruth Bourne Scholarship cup was ours! The Goodnight girls, Phi Kappa Taus and some faculty got together on Halloween for a real old-fashioned square dance – in costume.

Cube 1 downstairs loved pina coladas and liver and onions, and everyone in Cube 2 had to put up with a crush on T.W. There were 19 singles this year, which made for "goodnights" for many of us; the Whitfields got engaged, and so did Laura and Bill, and after all, one good J.J. deserves another.

Strangers in the Night are always welcome, and if those flames weren't enough, who could forget the three-alarm blaze in the attic? Happy Hour at Bubba's had a sudden rise in popularity while Santa met some arresting personalities at the Caberet.

We're quieter, but no less crazy; fewer but getting better all the time. Memories are everywhere – Creech playing hide-and-seek with Melanie's clothes one Sunday afternoon, Kathy's many adventures, strange secret Santa gifts, Creech and Diane's refrigerator, silver balls and fortune telling cards, late night talks beside the popcorn popper, Mary's entertainment, the cube exhibitionist, and the mad photographer.

There was the little red Monza that died, there were the good times and the bad times that we celebrated with slo gin fizzes, rum and cokes, beer, wine and anything else we could find. Some of us are leaving, and some of us have years left for fun and change. We will all remember, with laughter and love, the Goodnight House.

What does it mean to be a part of the Kappa Delta Sorority?

It is not merely a place to rest your weary body after a long day of classes. Being a Kappa Delta means much more.

It is the beginning of new and meaningful friendships that you can keep and cherish for the rest of your life. It is the cooperation that grows from long hours of baking birthday cakes, assembling care packages, planning rush parties, and even choosing nerdleburgers of the week! It is the fun and excitement of Christmas pixie parties and their poems, pinning circles, having little brothers and dressing in strange outfits to go to Howard Johnson's for a wild and crazy evening. It involves knowing that there will always be someone there whether it be to share your joys, or your tears.

Everyone who has been a part of this sorority is proud of it. As the seniors find that it is time to leave KD behind, the underclassmen wish them luck and happiness in hopes that there will be no regrets, and that they will leave with fond memories and a feeling of fulfillment.

Welcome to "the Flow," where the Prince of Wales rules. Here, the game reigns supreme, especially at the alcoholics anonymous meeting every Monday night. The Prince rules a tough court, and no one has gone to the court and won. "Take it to the court," and the reply is always thumbs down.

In the nice weather, there are always kegs on the veranda . . . they are usually pitch-in kegs. "Got a buck for a keg?" Someone usually pays the difference from the collection.

Overflow is the forgotten place, way up on the hill. Virginia comes up every once in a while. "Virginia, shut up! We know it's dirty!"

The Flow has been known to throw some wild parties and contests. There was the Sunrise on the Roof party with beer at breakfast. There was also the original drinking contest with videotape. Just recently, the Sigma Nu vs. Overflow Prince of Wales contest was held with a keg.

Takin' her for a spin

After coming back to campus early for house maintenance, leisure activities, and helping freshmen move in, Phi Kappa Tau's social year began with the annual Corn Roast ... and ended with the worst clean-up in history. After drinking deep from the Woolery Cup, we proceeded with the Luau and its chant: "Kill the pig! Cut its throat! Spill its blood!" The Weirton City Diner's omelet man was a vital part of Rat Richard's Unity Week. Meanwhile, we heard from our pals at National – Coach and "Quarters" Placenti – not to mention honorary members Ralph and Earl, as well as our friends at the BPD. The semester culminated with the election of Dave Hodge as SBOG President.

January saw 100% of our senior class become distinguished. As the second semester began with "155 ... shots of beer," M and M became the Home for Wayward Phi Taus, while we tried to free King Bob – and Rob. Our witless pledglings visited the house three times with malice in one week, a new record. Nevertheless, they survived, and Phi Tau went south to the great outdoors – Spring Weekend at Bluestone. In addition to intramurals, sports in which we participated included Odds and Ends (which we won), Centrifugal Floyd (which Floyd lost), Cattle Round-up, Balcony Bottle Bust, and the Mud-Hole Long Jump.

This means something to someone . . . The 1979-80 school year was enjoyable and eventful for the sisters of Phi Mu. September found us preparing for the months ahead.

Homecoming meant the arrival of many Phi Mu alumnae, and a spot on the court for senior Jacki Heaton. We entered a float in the parade hoping to "Make Thiel our meal."

As the semester went on, so did our lively social calendar. Dressed as all sorts of characters from South of the Border, we entertained freshman women at our first rush party. Halloween found us dressed as the female counterparts of famous couples in history for a party at the Alpha Sig house. If anyone was hungry, from partying, all she had to do was call "Chinese lunch!", and an excursion would be made to the nearest restaurant, regardless of the hour.

Although she is not seen on our seldom-seen composite, Beany Forize, a cousin of one of our sisters, entertained us all with her visits, including a rush party with a Lunar Disco theme.

December went swimmingly as we held our Christmas formal. Before Christmas break, we survived finals, lengthy Scoops and Scenes awards at Chapter Meetings, and other trials. Our rush efforts paid off, as we took in a super pledge class in February.

"Canaan Valley – we're there!" was our battle cry in April as we went to our spring weekend. Bethany's own Spring Weekend found us as active participants in the Perry Gresham Day parade.

May brought us cheers, beer and tears as we greeted seniors coming out of comps, celebrated our annual Rally Day on Greek Letter Hill, and said good-bye at graduation.

Being small has its advantages. Openness, individuality, sincerity and insanity make us unique. So do the annual Oktoberfest and 60's parties. After-study-parties provide that special incentive.

Some Pi Phi's can be found in Steinman's practice rooms, Wailes theater, or on Maxwell's Community Night Stage.

They keep in practice for Greek Sing by assaulting every guest with a discordant rendition of "Harmony," or one of Kate's originals.

BB cleans house; Renzo keeps us singing; Flicka keeps up our morale, but not our morals; Goat runs the house parties; Lisa runs her own party; Margalea bakes; Celeste watches for the moose; Wendy runs the art department; and Mom looks out for us all. May the circle be unbroken . . .

Yes, Virginia, there is a clean SAE house . . .

This past year has been an interesting one for the brothers of Sigma Nu, socially, athletically and academically.

Brothers Jeff Severino, Rick Villani and John Tritschler captained the successful Bison football squad, leading them to a 6-2 overall record. The Sigs comprised a large portion of this year's squad. Marty Maag and Mark Swiger also ran for the cross country team in the fall, while John Sholhead was a standout for the soccer team, becoming Bethany's all-time leading scorer.

We were also active socially during the fall. Along with the all-campus parties, this year's Bowery Brawl saw us prove that everything "tastes better when it sits on a ritz."

January rolled around, and miracles never cease as many of our seniors passed their comps at the end of the month. The basketball team enjoyed a good year, and Sig roommates Fred Gongola and Dan Vogelhuber contributed heavily to the cager's season.

As the second semester started, a low financial budget saw a decrease in the parties, but chip-ins and birthdays kept things going quite the same.

WOOLERY

The "Dirty Dozen" had nothing over Woolery!

W. Almasy, P. Ashton, W. Carver, B. D'addario, M. Culp, D. Dempsey, S. Dillinger, K. Dykema, D. Ferns, R. Fowler, M. Granato, T. Hagy, M. Hartley, D. Hayes, E. Herzog, G. Jewell, G. Kellis, R. From the first non-party to the Christmas non-formal to the non-push for the scholarship cup to the non-cable TV, the men of Woolery had fun facing the world.

If it wasn't Hagbert diving off the balcony, it was rear end collisions in the parking lot and DWI charges all around (when cars were running). Some guys couldn't resist underwear and Mazzola parties, but the Doctor Cube stopped at nothing to raise the house GPA. While the rest watched TV despite a "doctored" cable, some made names for themselves in sports.

In football, Woolery provided half the defensive backfield (Shoes and all-PAC Scratch), a preppy part-time placekicker (LeCarv) and the PAC's smallest defensive lineman (Pri). In basketball, it was Paige, Culp, Ferns, Dillinger and Mancinelli on the court for the Bisons, while the Woolery intramural A team could've beaten half the teams in the PAC, after facing the local talent.

Harriers (Geng, JQ, OGIE and Pete) abounded, and there was enough talent left over to win IM's. Bo and Chisel helped out the thinclads, while Hayes loaned his talents to the netters. Charlie skated with the Canucks and DeAbuser graced the diamond.

Elsewhere, the Dead Cube lived on and the Senior Cube (well, most of it) was graduated. Most of the Skyscraper Cube transferred, but the big man stuck around to be pummeled.

And although it lost some of the best Woolites, "the house" took in the top "pledge class" again, because the only way to be #1 is to know how to face the world and say "4:30." So, FACE!

As usual, intramural football started off the year, and the Y.A.H.s had what might be considered a somewhat winning season. After the battle scars healed, we carried on with traditions.

The annual SAE-ZTA halloween party was a smash once again, along with the SAE-ZTA barbeque. Everybody worked hard – planning, decorating, cleaning – and it all paid off in the end. Rush parties began, and the Zeta casino made it to town. Guests gambled their lives away, and others enjoyed a Las Vegas show. Appearences were made by stars like Lisa (JoAnne Risucci) Minelli, Marilynn (Dawn Huff) McCoo, Emmett (Pam Peterson) Kelly, and Carol (Andy Easton) Burnett. Donna (Faith Wooton) Summer and Barbra (Carol Prince) Striesand also attended, and a good time was had by all.

Christmas was upon us, and we celebrated with a bash. Highlights included good food made especially by Robin, good drink, and plenty of mistletoe!

The first semester ended and finals started, but everyone came through O.K. Some of the sisters spent January here, and 10 seniors passed their comps.

The second semester found us all getting ready for formal rush, and the first snow resulted in a snowball raid on the house by unruly freshmen. A long-awaited Bid Day arrived and proved to be a riot.

Spring break took many of us away to Florida again this year, and mixers served as fillers until the grand finale: Zeta Spring Weekend! It was a great year, and the Zetas look forward to another one next year.

Freshmen Orientation

What crowds those coal bowl picnics attracted . . .

. . . and all those receptions!

Without the Phi Tau's, we never would have gotten unpacked.

September 2, 1979, was hot and humid as 300 or so freshmen poured onto the Bethany campus for the first time. Feelings were the same: a mixture of apprehension, anxiety and excitement. I mean, "Hey, we're college freshmen now!"

The initial welcome was really nice as these 'older' looking people grabbed our bags and started for the dorm stairs.

"Just a second. Where's my room, 318?"

"318? That's the top floor."

Our hearts sank, our feet dragged, but we grabbed what seemed like a lot more luggage than we started out with. Hopefully, my roommate won't have quite as much.

Oh no! Roommate. What'll he/she be like? Will we get along? Will my R.A. be nice, whatever that is?

Oh boy, get your first college ID, then hide your first college ID forever, because of that picture.

A reception at the President's house . . . who are all these people?

Later on, you meet the rest of the folks on your hall. You don't really panic until you realize that they all have different names to remember.

Then the matriculation ceremony with the funny hats and the Alma Mater.

What was the high point of our day? Probably dinner. We learned just how we were to sustain ourselves for the next four years.

And the low point? Well, it was real hard to see my family go. My little sister gave me a hug that almost broke my neck. But independence has to start someplace, and I guess it always seems a little too soon.

The sunshine had to come from within during this year's Homecoming celebration. The September 29th Homecoming date arrived with a mixture of clouds, mud and rain, but even these didn't serve to dampen the spirits of Bethany Folk.

Senior Claudia Gilmartin was crowned Queen of the Homecoming Court that included fellow seniors Jacki Heaton, Karen Casuccio, Caryn Teutsch, and Liz Bennett.

Though the Bison football team lost to Thiel that day, the Sigma Nu fraternity provided a bit of entertainment by sending a few of their clowns to entertain their fans.

Lester Lanin's band once again provided the music and entertainment for the dance Saturday night, and althought not everyone could get his hats, the looks of student faces Sunday morning proved that Saturday's festivities were successful.

Early in the fall semester, the brothers of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity decided to participate in a volleyball marathon. Inspired by the courage of Brother Ray Nola, they decided to play for 75 hours, and to donate all proceeds to the Leukemia Society of America.

The 1980 Bethany College Spring Weekend had an added treat to it: students were given Friday off from classes to compensate for the fact that no snow carnival was held this year. As a result, Bethany, both college and community, saw three action-packed, festive days.

The Inter-Fraternity Council sponsored the first-ever Perry Gresham games, competition between student teams in events like bubble-gum blowing, cracker-whistling, frisbee golf and a tug-o-war. The games were held Friday morning, and the tug-o-war completed the games early in the afternoon. The Dirt Band was in concert Friday night at the field house.

Saturday was the annual Perry Gresham Day, complete with a parade and the always-lovely Gresham Day queens. King Perrywinkle himself rode in the parade's lead car.

A regatta was held in the afternoon, down the Buffalo, and Saturday night saw concerts by Scott Jarrett and the David Bromberg Band. There was one final concert on Sunday in Commencement Hall by Livingston Taylor. Many students felt that the Taylor concert was one of Bethany's finest in recent years.

In all, it was a good weekend, despite Friday's dim weather, and the next few years promise to see many more additions to the Perry Gresham Day "Hall of Fame."

October in Bethany was anything but normal. On a dark and dreary Saturday night, 14 performers and an extremely gullible audience shared 1½ hours of comedy in Renner Too at an encore performance of "Asylum Live, Too."

Billed as a live radio comedy revue, "Asylum Live, Too" featured irreverent but funny shots at Bethany and the world.

Alumni Dave McDonnell, Tim Smith, Steve Coe and Harry Mainzer produced and wrote the show in conjunction with present students John Sayers and Peter Jensen.

Performers for the revue were Beth Grace, Peter Jensen, Melissa Kearney, Harry Mainzer, Lee Mercer, Paul Read and John Sayers.

Special guest stars were Stanley Becker, John U. Davis, Larry Grimes and Jonathan Lamb, along with the Randy Stuck Orchestra.

The show also featured special appearances (live on tape) by Mel Blanc, Anthony L. Mitch and the Flying Bobbette Brothers.

"Where's this Wiemer Lecture Hall?"

Foreign Language Day arrived at Bethany College's campus along with the invasion of more than 1,000 high school students from all over the Tri-State. All the high school students were actively involved in the foreign language departments at their schools.

A slew of activities and competitions were scheduled for the students to take part in during the course of the day, all arranged and sponsored by the Foreign Language Department of Bethany. There were a number of competitions in areas such as drama, music, recitations, creative writing, and art and culture. Many of the students submitted artistic projects for judging, and ribbons were awarded to the winners.

Bethany also provided a bit of entertainment, including a number of short plays, all performed in one of the foreign languages offered by the schools. There were also demonstrations in foreign folk dancing, and a soccer tournament was held at Rine field.

Bethany students played a big part in the success of the foreign Language Day. Foreign Language Department senior fellow Sharon Patterson was the student director of the day's activities, and there were over 200 student work-hours put in towards making the day a success.

Parent's Weekend always seems to be characterized by a couple of things: an immediate improvement in the cafeteria's food, and big, expensive-looking cars on campus.

This spring was no exception. There was a fine turnout of parents, and a host of activities to keep adults and students happy.

The Theatre department presented the musical "Pippin," the baseball team was in action in a doubleheader against Hiram, and the week-end was capped by a special Mother's Day banquet at the Commons. The Parent's Council also met for the first part of the weekend to discuss affairs concerning the operation of Bethany with faculty and administration.

Fraternity winner – Phi Kappa Tau

Sorority winner – Phi Mu

Greek Sing is traditionally held as a Mother's Day celebration, highlighting the festivities of the spring parent's weekend.

All (well, almost all) of the fraternities and sororities on campus carefully prepare songs to perform them in front of judges at Alumni Field House, and a winner is chosen for both male and female Greek systems.

This year, the brothers of the Phi Kappa Tau Fraternity captured first place in the men's competition, while the sisters of the Phi Mu Sorority took the women's first.

Once again, the Sigma Nus provided what some might call entertainment, adorned in their lavish concert choir attire. Rumor has it that they ran a close second behind the Phi Taus.

Another highlight of the Greek Sing was the naming of freshman Marie Zuberbuehler as the Phi Kappa Tau's freshman Woman-of-the-Year.

The spring May Morning Breakfast is the height of fashion and etiquette for the women of Bethany College.

Before the breakfast of scrambled eggs and ham was served, sophomore Susan Driggs offered a prayer, and outstanding junior woman Debbie Oakley proposed a toast to the senior women to be graduated.

Accompanied by music from William Crosbie, the fashion show was probably the highlight of the morning.

The show was coordinated by junior Sandy Block, and narrated by junior Faith Wooten. The guest speaker for this year's May Morning Breakfast was Yvonne Zanos, a graduate of Bethany College, and currently employed with KDKA in Pittsburgh. Miss Zanos works very closely with KDKA's Evening Magazine.

Football

Compiling a 6-2 overall record, this year's Bison football squad proved to be one of Bethany's finest in recent years.

Senior captains Doug Owens, Rick Villani, John Tritschler and Jeff Severino set a fine example and sparked an enthusiastic attitude among the rest of the players.

The Bisons finished the '79 campaign in a tie for second place in the President's Athletic Conference, boasting the league's finest specialty teams and placing 10 players on all-conference teams.

Junior quarterback Jeff Beer spearheaded a top-flight passing attack, and together with an aggressive, swarming defense, proved too much for many teams to handle.

With many of this year's top performers due to return next year, head coach Don Ault is looking forward to add to what is presently a five-game winning streak.

Schultz en route to his record

The Bison soccer squad carried on its fine tradition during the 1979 season, achieving an overall record of 9-3, and finishing in a tie for first place in the conference with John Carroll.

It was a season of milestones for Coach Cunningham's booters. Senior John Sholhead scored his 34th career goal, becoming the all-time leading scorer in Bethany soccer history. The 1979 team also scored a total of 47 goals during the season, establishing that figure as an all-time high.

Bethany's leading scorers during the 1979 campaign were Bill Denniston with 12 goals, and John Sholhead with 10. Sholhead was also selected as the conference's most valuable player.

Also chosen to the all-P.A.C. team were Jim Regan, Les Bek, Dave Tomer, Paul Denfeld and Bill Denniston. Paul Hayward and Bobby Hill received honorable mention.

The season ended on a high note, as the team scored five, six and seven goals in their last three games, respectively, and Coach Cunningham hopes that the 1980 squad will pick up where the 1979 club left off.

Field Hockey

Captained by Diane Thompson and Debbie Scheirer and coached by Sally Dorwart, the 1979 Bison field hockey team once again won the Penwood West Conference with a final record of 8-2.

1979 being the third year in a row that Bethany has won the conference, there were many standouts. Four players were chosen to the all-conference team, among them Thompson, Scheirer, leading scorer Amy Lovell and Leeann Paquette.

Set 'em up, coach

The Bethany Bison Cross Country team overcame many struggles during their 1979 season to find that conflict, controversy and "pulling together" were the key components toward a very successful 9-1 overall record.

Renowned 1972 Olympic gold medalist Dave Wottle completed his third year as the coach of the Bison harriers, and took his team to the conference championships with an unblemished record. Bethany came away with a fourth-place finish, trailing the eventual winner by six points. The Bison's championship finish sparked controversy concerning the hesitation of Athletic Director Dave Hutter to send Bison representatives to the NCAA Regional Qualifiers. Sophomores Kurt Plouck, Mark Swiger and Alex Kon were ultimately permitted to go, and all three qualified for the national meet in Rock Island, Ill, finishing respectably.

Rounding out the top seven were sophomore Marty Maag, junior John Quinn, and freshmen Scott Mudrich and Ray McCarthy.

Other runners vying to break into the top seven were junior Steve Peterson, sophomores Tom Ogurcak and Steve Yereb, and freshmen Dan DiChristina, Jeff Morris and Tim Fletcher. Next year should prove to be rewarding for the Bison cross country team as everyone will be returning for another year of competition. Bethany will also host the 1980 Southeastern regional meet.

Fall Tennis

The 1979-80 women's tennis team, under the direction of Coach Donna Keith, did not complete an overly successful campaign, but there was considerable improvement, and high hopes exist for next season.

First and second singles players Cindy Marks and Teryl Berriman both earned their third career letters, and sophomore Beth Ferguson held the third singles spot. Kathy Madison and Beth Gospodarek competed in the first doubles slot, while Pam Valentine and Tamara Tormohlen played second doubles.

Exhibition players Cathy Chadwick and Chris Klein added depth to the team. Other subs included Gay Glenn, Sue Wilson and Janet Bender.

The 1979 women's volleyball team concluded their brief, nineteen day season by capturing the Pennwood West Conference championship. The spikers finished with an overall record of 8-6, and a conference mark of 6-1. The team was crowned conference champs after defeating St. Francis Academy in the final match of the conference tournament held at Washington and Jefferson College.

Paige Selby and Diane Pfeil were named to the all-conference first and second teams, respectively. Under the direction of Coach Sally Dorwart, fourteen of the fifteen team members will return to play in 1980 in hopes of retaining their conference title.

The picture tells it all: Kendall's 1000th.

Captain Kendall rises to the occasion

The 1979-80 Bison basketball team enjoyed a very successful season, finishing in second place in the President's Athletic Conference behind Allegheny. Compiling a season overall record of 15-6, Bethany was in contention for the conference championship until the last game against Allegheny.

Captain Kendall Hayes was chosen to the All-P.A.C. first team, and was also selected as the most valuable player in the conference. Fred Gongola was chosen to the second team, and Pete Winovich received honorable mention.

Many highlights also made the season a rewarding one for the Bisons. Kendall Hayes sank two free throws against Thiel in the first half to achieve his 1000th career point. Gongola hit for 31 points in the first game of the Joe Manchin classic against Salem College, and both he and Hayes were selected to the all-tourney team. The Bisons also defeated Allegheny on the Gator's homecourt, marking the first time that Bethany had done that in 10 years.

Women's Basketball

A few factors led to the Bethany Women's basketball team's final record. Unable to put it all together for many of the games, the team hovered around the .500 mark for the season.

Because a number of the players left midway through the season, head coach Donna Keith was forced to rely on the younger, less-experienced players.

Captains Terry Swinehart and Eileen Reading controlled the offense, Reading running the plays, and Swinehart doing the bulk of the scoring. Freshmen Julie Davis and Carol Koellner handled the rebounding, leading the team and finishing among the top ten rebounders in the conference.

Mixed emotions best describe the Bethany Bison 1979-80 swim team.

Although the tankers finished their season with an unimpressive 2-6 mark, they managed to score their first conference victory in four years, at the expense of Hiram College.

Senior Eric Schult proved to be one of the most consistent of the Bison swimmers, finishing in the top twelve in the 1,650-meter breast stroke event at the P.A.C. conference championships.

Other top swimmers included senior Sheila Baskett, junior John Serra, sophomore Judy Flynn, and freshmen Chip White, Gary Dornstauder, Andy Clark, Dave Quel and Bill Celler. Clark also excelled in the P.A.C.s, finishing in the top six in the 200-meter butterfly event.

Dave Quel also placed, finishing the 100-meter breast stroke event in the top twelve. Freshman Sean Keller paced the Bethany divers, and was backed by fellow freshmen Dana Fields, Suzie Lowen and Manuel Cuesta.

Senior Sheila Baskett established a milestone during the season: she became the first girl to letter in swimming at Bethany College for four straight years.

As with many other athletic teams on campus this year, youth abounded on the swim team, and that can only bring hope for the future.

Although the 1980 Bethany Bison baseball team did not repeat as President's Athletic Conference champs this year, they still posted a winning record and finished respectably in the P.A.C. standings.

Under the guidance of coach "crazy Pat" Dunfee, the team compiled an overall record of 14-13, and a conference mark of 7-5. Their conference record was good enough to earn them a third place spot in the standings behind league leaders John Carroll and Theil.

A number of the Bison players were selected to the all-Presidents' Athletic Conference team. Among those who were chosen to the first team are senior first baseman Dave Jablonowski, senior left fielder and Bethany's leading hitter Lee Frankhouser, and finally, junior shortstop Fred Gongola. Gongola was also elected by the Bethany student body as the top male athlete of the year for his efforts in baseball and basketball. Fred's brother, sophomore Ken, received honorable mention in the all-P.A.C. selections.

Though the baseball program will be losing valuable seniors through graduation, a tough crew of underclassmen should keep them in the running for the 1981 crown.

Softball

The 1980 women's softball team enjoyed a very successful campaign, finishing the season with a 7-3 overall record, and compiling a perfect 4-0 mark in their conference, taking the conference championship.

Led by captains Cindy Marks and Diane Pfeil, and coached by Sally Dorwart, the team easily defeated Chatham, the only other team in the conference, four straight times for their hard-earned title.

Softball standouts included freshman slugger Carol Koellner, who boasted one of the strongest arms on the team, and center fielder Eileen Reading who was also selected Bethany's female athlete of the year.

Games were played up at the field house. There are high hopes for upcoming years, because almost everyone from this year's squad will be returning for action next year for Bethany softball's second year as a varsity sport.

The Bethany College track team finished its most successful season in recent years with a fourth-place finish in the President's Athletic Conference Championship and a 6-2 season record. Senior Rick Villani led the Bisons by recapturing his conference title in the javelin event. Villani's season effort earned him all-P.A.C. honors for the third consecutive season.

Senior Drew McConaghy earned all-conference distinction in two different categories, the 200-meter dash and the 100-meter dash. The other runner to claim all-conference honors was sophomore Kurt Plouck in the 1,500-meter long-distance event.

Rounding out the other Bison thinclads to receive all-conference distinction were Dave Blaner and Bill Almasy in the hurdles, runners Mark Swiger, Steve Yereb and Jeff Morris, jumpers Bill Carver and Randy Burke, pole vaulter Dan Sigler and discus thrower Jeff Lampson.

Coach Paul Chewning's lacrosse club put together an 8-6 overall record this year that included wins over Wheeling, Allegheny and Washington and Jefferson Colleges. The team still managed to achieve a winning record even though there were such established clubs as Pittsburgh and West Virgina Universities on its schedule. Two club records were set during the 1980 campaign. Freshman standout Tim Eggert scored 39 regular season goals, and junior veteran John "Beaver" Kleehammer assisted on goals 27 times. Both Eggert and Kleehammer shared overall scoring honors this year with 45 points apiece.

Other star players included senior Drew McConaghy, junior Dave Otto, and freshmen Tom Bosworth, Bill Frechette and Tom Taylor.

Although the girl's lacrosse club didn't get a chance to taste victory during their season, considerable experience was gained through their efforts, and coach Liz Chewning shares hopes with student coach Carole Moeller for a more successful season in 1981.

Although the 1980 Bethany men's tennis team did not achieve a record up to their expectations, head coach Bill Beinbreck was very pleased with his team's play.

The Bison netters finished the season with a somewhat disappointing last-place finish in the President's Athletic Conference Championships. They had completed a regular-season mark of 5-3, and a 3-2 record in the P.A.C.

The team will only lose one member through graduation, first singles players Peter Sanderson. Veteran returnees for next season will include junior standouts Ted deSelding, Dave Hayes, Jeff Miller and Keith Todd. Rounding out the returnees are sophomore Jim Paige, and freshmen Mark Hobert and John McDevitt.

This year's Bethany golf team posted an overall 2-10 record, but head coach Don Ault felt that, in many ways, the season was a rewarding one. Though the won-loss record indicated failure, Ault felt that the team's attitude, and work made it a fairly successful year. The roster was a young one, listing one junior and seven freshmen. One of the freshmen, Brian Goin, was named this year's most consistent golfer on the squad by Ault, and will return in 1981 to captain the team along with junior Kevin Blackwell.

Bethany finished eighth in the P.A.C. Golf Championships. The Bison's top performer in the tournament was Goin, whose two-day total of 160 denied him all-conference recognition by one stroke. Other golfers to stay below the 200-mark for the tournament were Blackwell, Bill Adkins, Jeff Mattich, Steve Smith and Russ White.

Those who are united into one body, and have a common established law and judicature to appeal to, with authority to decide controversies between them and punish offenders, are in civil society one with another; but those who have no such common appeal – I mean on earth – are still in the state of nature, each being where there is no other, judge for himself and executioner, which is, as I have before shown it, the perfect state of nature.

In Dedication

The 1980 Bethanian staff would like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Ruth Westlake for the direction and guidance she has provided us throughout the production of this publication. Miss Westlake is the Director of Bethany Publications and has been the advisor to the Bethanian as long as she has been here. It has been her job to keep Bethany "in the news," and we feel that she has been a major contributor to the function of Bethany College.

BETHANY COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

May Twenty-Fourth Nineteen Hundred Eighty
Ten O'Clock — Old Main Quadrangle

One Hundred Thirty-Ninth Commencement

The 1980 Commencement exercises saw the graduation of a fine senior class from Bethany College.

Seniors graduating with degrees in Science numbered 30, while the remaining 116 members of the class were graduated with degrees in Arts.

A number of events took place during this year's graduation ceremonies. United States Steel Chairman of the Board David Milton Roderick was the speaker for this year's graduation, and was also the recipient of a Doctor of Laws degree.

Also receiving honorary degrees were Asa Jean Woolfolk, Doctor of Divinity; Harold C. Doster,

Registrar Joseph Kurey

Doctor of Humanities; Carlos G. Liggett, Doctor of Business Administration and Harry E. Smith, Doctor of Divinity.

All people present were also priveleged to meet the recently selected 15th president of Bethany College, Dr. Todd H. Bullard. Dr. Bullard will succeed Interim President Robert Sandercox in the Fall of 1980. He was previously Vice-President and Provost at the Rochester Institute of Technology.

Although the weather unfortunately prevented the ceremony from being held out-of-doors, the graduation was a success, and all the faculty and underclassmen wish the seniors the best of luck in the years to come.

LIVE YOUR FANTASY –

-A photo essay by George Williams

Farewell to you and the youth
I have spent with you.
It was but yesterday we met in a dream.

You have sung to me in my aloneness, and I of your longings have built a tower in the sky.

But now our sleep has fled and our dream is over, and it is no longer dawn.

The noontide is upon us and our half waking has turned to fuller day and we must part.

If in the twilight of memory we should meet once more,

We shall speak again together and you shall sing to me a deeper song.

And if our hands should meet in another dream we shall build another tower in the sky . . .

—Kahlil Gibran
